

Site/Organization Name	URL	Areas of Interest in Collection
National Security Archive	https://nsarchive.gwu.edu/	National Security Archive combines a unique range of functions: investigative journalism center, research institute on international affairs, library and archive of declassified U.S. documents. Includes a variety of topics from around the globe.
MIT Visualizing Cultures	https://visualizingcultures.mit.edu/home/index.html	Topical units to date focus on Japan in the modern world and early-modern China
Project Gutenberg	https://www.gutenberg.org/	60,000+ titles of free ebooks. Variety of topics, titles, and languages available
Fordham University Internet History Sourcebooks Project	https://sourcebooks.fordham.edu/	A collection of public domain and copy-permitted historical texts presented cleanly (without advertising or excessive layout) for educational use. Primary sources are available here primarily for use in high-school and university/college courses. From the outset the site took a very broad view of the sources that should be available to students and as well as documents long associated with a "western civilization" approach to history also provides much information on Byzantine, Islamic, Jewish, Indian, East Asian, and African history. You will also find many documents especially relevant to women's history and LGBT studies.
EdTech Teacher Best of History Websites	https://besthistorysites.net/	General history resources, Ancient/Biblical history, American history, European history, modern history, military history, oral history, art history
Library of Congress World Digital Library	https://www.loc.gov/collections/world-digital-library/about-this-collection/	Books, manuscripts, maps, and other primary materials in the WDL collection are presented in their original languages; more than 100 languages are represented, including many lesser known and endangered languages. The materials collected by the WDL include cultural treasures and significant historical documents including books, manuscripts, maps, newspapers, journals, prints, photographs, sound recordings, and films.
Yale Law School Avalon Project	https://avalon.law.yale.edu/default.asp	Digital documents relevant to the fields of Law, History, Economics, Politics, Diplomacy and Government spanning from Ancient History to 2001.
Digital Bodleian	https://digital.bodleian.ox.ac.uk/	Discover over a million images of rare books, manuscripts, and other treasures from the Bodleian Libraries and Oxford college libraries.
Old Maps Online	https://www.oldmapsonline.org/	Database of 400,000 maps from around the world. Searchable by timeline or by location
Europeana	https://www.europeana.eu/en	Display cultural heritage material from over 4,000 different European galleries, libraries, archives, and museums. Discover artworks, books, music, and videos on art, newspapers, archaeology, fashion, science, sport, and much more. Collections span items from 1st Century C.E. to 21st Century.
West Sound Academy World History Primary Sources	https://libguides.westsoundacademy.org/primary_sources/world_history	Comprehensive list of websites for world history sorted by time periods, countries or regions, and topics
Edison Tech Center	https://edisontechcenter.org/resources.html	Engineering Hall of Fame for pioneers of electrical technology, listed by century
The Indigenous Digital Archive- IDA Treaties Explorer	https://digitreaties.org/	While treaties between Indigenous peoples and the United States affect virtually every area in the USA, there is as yet no official list of all the treaties. The US National Archives holds 374 of the treaties, where they are known as the Ratified Indian Treaties. Here you can view them for the first time with key historic works that provide context to the agreements made and the histories of our shared lands.
The Association of Religion Data Archives	https://www.thearda.com/	A diverse collection of history, data, and timelines of US and World religions
The Hoover Institution	https://digitalcollections.hoover.org/collections	The collections contain the most important materials on war, revolution, and peace and social, political, and economic change in the modern era.
British Library Digital Collections	https://www.bl.uk/catalogues-and-collections/digital-collections	Explore the various collections of digitized materials

Site/Organization Name	URL	Areas of Interest in Collection
Medieval Digital Resources	http://mdr-maa.org/	MDR is a curated database of peer-reviewed digital materials for the study of the Middle Ages. Users can browse an alphabetical list or search using controlled-vocabulary subject tags to find vetted online resources of many types, including: imagebanks; bibliographies and reference works; pedagogical tools; editions and translations; music and other multimedia collections; interpretative websites; and new works of digital scholarship. A SPECIAL NOTE FOR K-12 STUDENTS AND NATIONAL HISTORY DAY PARTICIPANTS: Several dozen MDR resources have been designated “National History Day Selected Resources” by our team of K-12 educators. These resources – selected for their accessibility and user-friendliness – are identified as such in each resource’s introductory text. You may also retrieve the entire list here by searching for “National History Day” in the “Search Term” box.
EuroDocs: Online Sources for European History	https://eudocs.lib.byu.edu/index.php/Main_Page	Links connect to European primary historical documents that are transcribed, reproduced in facsimile, or translated. In addition you will find video or sound files, maps, photographs or other imagery, databases, and other documentation. The sources cover a broad range of historical happenings (political, economic, social and cultural). The order of documents is chronological wherever possible.
German History in Documents and Images	https://germanhistorydocs.ghi-dc.org/	A comprehensive collection of primary source materials documenting Germany's political, social, and cultural history from 1500 to the present. It comprises original German texts, all of which are accompanied by new English translations, and a wide range of visual imagery. The materials are presented in ten sections, which have been compiled by leading scholars.
Wilson Center Digital Archive	https://digitalarchive.wilsoncenter.org/	The Digital Archive contains once- secret documents from governments all across the globe, uncovering new sources and providing fresh insights into the history of international relations and providing fresh insights into the history of international relations and diplomacy. The Digital Archive is overseen by the Wilson Center's History and Public Policy Program and focuses on the interrelated histories of the Cold War, Korea, and Nuclear Proliferation.
Duke University Japanese Studies	https://guides.library.duke.edu/japanesestudies-EAL/Japan	Duke has focused its collecting on 19th and 20th century Japan, identifying a few areas of strength - modern art history, women's and labor history, Japan's colonial history, modern literature, manga and anime. The primary focus is on history, literature and the social sciences from 1868 to the present, but premodern social and economic history, and Buddhism are well represented, and basic materials are collected in premodern literature, religion, philosophy, language, law, sociology and anthropology. The collection also contains works in Japanese on Chinese art history, Daoism, Chinese and Korean history in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries, the Japanese colonial experience, US-Japan relations, the history of the European Community, world history and translations of world literature into Japanese.
World History Encyclopedia	https://www.worldhistory.org/index/	Their mission is to engage people with cultural heritage and to improve history education worldwide. Materials range across time periods from prehistoric to modern.
Hanover College (IN) Historical Texts Collection	https://history.hanover.edu/project.php	The Hanover Historical Texts Collection makes available digital versions of historical texts for use in history and humanities courses. The selections include Ancient Greece and Rome, medieval through modern Europe, Africa and Asia, and American history.

Site/Organization Name	URL	Areas of Interest in Collection
University College at Cork--CELT	https://celt.ucc.ie/index.html	CELT, the Corpus of Electronic Texts, is Ireland's longest running Humanities Computing project. It brings the wealth of Irish literary and historical culture to you on the Internet, for the use and benefit of everyone worldwide. It has a searchable online textbase consisting of over 19 million words, in 1638 contemporary and historical documents from many areas, including literature, medicine, and the other arts.
University of Nebraska-Omaha Ancient World Primary Source Databases Research Guide	https://libguides.unomaha.edu/primary_source_databases	A large collection of full-text primary sources from the ancient world, organized by region.
British History Online	https://www.british-history.ac.uk/catalogue/primary-sources	A large collection of primary sources related to British history from Ancient times through the 20th Century.
British Library South Asia Collection	https://www.bl.uk/subjects/south-asia	This collection has rich resources for the study of South Asia past and present. South Asia is taken to include Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Bhutan, India, the Maldives, Nepal, Pakistan and Sri Lanka.